

How are you with surrender???

Good morning church family,

Today I want to ask a very important question, “How are you with surrender?”

Let me invite you to not just push this question off to the side and not think about it. What do you honestly think about complete and total surrender to what God wants you to do? Yes, I know this is hard because many times the will of God stands in total contrast to our personal will. Most people would say that they are good with complete surrender but when God starts changing things they say, “Well, I’m not so sure I’m ok with that kind of surrender!”

Today I want to look at a parable or story that Jesus told and bring that story into our lives. Jesus mentions four people with very different responses to God’s word in their lives. As we look at these four people, I challenge you to find where you fit in the story. If you don’t like where you see yourself then it might be good for you to let God do his work in you while we listen to the old song, “I Surrender All.”

He has risen,
